On motion of Senator Nielson, Crystal Tolley, Provo High School and Laura Swim, Timpview High School, winners of the America's Freedom Festival at Provo Speech Contest spoke in Committee of the Whole. On motion of Senator C. Peterson, the remarks were ordered printed upon the pages of the Senate Journal.

IN GOD WE TRUST BY CRYSTAL TOLLEY

For centuries this land went unheeded and unnoticed. Kingdoms rose and fell, but little was known of this blessed land. Only the inhabitants knew of its very existence. And yet, in the few centuries since its discovery, America has risen to a level few well-established countries have ever seen or ever hoped to see. We have emerged as a singular superpower, a symbol of freedom, and a light for all.

How is it possible that so much should come in so little time? How have we succeeded where others have failed? The answer – God. It is through His intervention that we have achieved so much, that we are who we are.

Our country's motto consists of four tiny, little words – relatively simple ones at that. They are “In God We Trust.” We read in The Rebirth of America:

It was not lightly that our forefathers chose these inseparable words, for they knew the tremendous cost and sacrifice that had been paid to secure our freedom. In gratitude, they continually acknowledged that God has made and preserved our nation. They were confident that God was blessing their endeavors because they acknowledged Him and sought His aid in all their doings. They warned future generations that the day God was not earnestly revered in America, she would become a byword among nations. We would do well today to review their urgent admonitions and the wisdom that was theirs when they forged the greatest and most prosperous nation in all history.

Our forefathers recognized our dependence on God. They knew that He was the true founder of our nation. For despite how wise our forefathers were, without Him, we would not be where we are today.

George Washington attests this fact in his First Inaugural Address, when he writes:

It would be peculiarly improper to omit in this first office Act, my fervent supplications to that Almighty Being who rules over the Universe, who presides in the Councils of Nations, and whose providential aids can supply every human defect. . . In tendering this homage to the Great Author of every public and private good, I assure myself that it expresses your sentiments not less than my own; nor those of my fellow-citizens at large, less than either. No People can be bound to acknowledge and adore the Invisible Hand, which conducts the Affairs of men more than the People of the United States. Every step, by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation, seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency.

Every step! Not just to break away from England; not just to reform the Articles of Confederation; but every step, every compromise, every right.

Benjamin Franklin adds his testimony to that of George Washington's when he states: “I have lived, sir, a long time, and the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth – that God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without his notice is it probable that an empire can rise without his aid?”

We are truly a great empire and we did rise with His aid. Not only do we attribute this success to God, we further supplicate Him for future success. We sing:

. . . America! America! God shed his grace on thee. . .

. . . God mend thine every flaw. . .

. . . God bless America. . .

And yet, as Abraham Lincoln said:

“ . . . we have forgotten God, we have forgotten the gracious hand that preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined in the deceitfulness of our hearts that all of these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom or virtue of our own. Intoxicated by unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God who made us.”

But we need to pray to that God who made us for as Abraham Lincoln continues: “Without the assistance of that Divine Being . . . I cannot succeed. With that assistance I cannot fail.”

We need God! He is our founder. Without Him, we cannot succeed. Even observers have noticed this godly dependence. One, General Carlos P. Romuloe, who lived here many years, said at his departure:

I am going home. America – farewell. For seventeen years, I have enjoyed your hospitality, visited every one of your 50 states. I can say I know you well. I admire and love America. It is my second home. What I have to say to you now in parting is both a tribute and a warning: Never forget, Americans, that yours is a spiritual country. Yes, I know that you are a practical people, like others. I have marveled at your factories, your skyscrapers and your arsenals. But underlying everything else is the fact that America began as a God-loving, God-fearing, God-worshipping people, knowing that there is a spark of the Divine in each one of us. It is this respect for the dignity of the human spirit which makes America invincible. May it always endure. And so I say again in parting, thank you, America, and farewell. May God keep you always – and may you always keep God.

Let us never forget that we are “. . . One Nation Under God” and “In God We Trust.”

TO SECURE THE BLESSINGS OF LIBERTY TO OURSELVES AND OUR POSTERITY
BY LAURA SWIM

January 1787 was a month that became a turning point in American history. Farmers in Massachusetts were discouraged and became angry when creditors would not accept their worthless paper money. Because they could not pay their mortgages, Daniel Shay led an uprising to the courthouse closing it down stopping the judge from foreclosing on their mortgages. Shay's Rebellion was one of several uprisings that confirmed the already acknowledged weaknesses of the Articles of Confederation. Soon there after George Washington seeing our new nation falling apart soberly said, "Let us look to our national character, and to things beyond the present period. No morn ever dawned more favorably than ours did; and no day was ever more clouded than the present!. . . Without some alteration in our political creed, the superstructure we have been seven years raising at the expense of so much blood and treasure must fall. We are fast verging to anarchy and confusion!"

Our country was in trouble. Rather than uniting the country the Articles of Confederation were dividing the states and leaving them weak. The Article of Confederation had no way to enforce laws and take control. Something had to be done if our nation was to pull through. The Constitutional Convention was called and distinguished men from the states met in the summer of 1787 to solve the Articles of Confederations weaknesses. It took over three months of heated debates, to draft the new form of government after which it was sent to the states for ratification. What was the purpose of this new government? To Secure the Blessings of Liberty to Ourselves and our Posterity.

Abraham Lincoln said, "Freedom, [or Liberty] is not the right to do what we want, but what we ought. Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us; to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it." Many people believe they can do as they please without consequences for their actions. More and more laws must be made as those who are not responsible increase in number. Freedom diminishes as new laws are necessary to control those who will not control themselves. James Madison once said that a man's nature must be controlled. Liberty is a blessing because we can have opportunities to progress to our highest potential.

Government alone cannot secure liberty, it requires a virtuous people. We must be a people with high standards, willing to obey law, and elect only those into office who share our values. If we are responsible for our actions on the whole as nation, our liberties will be secured. For as Samuel Adams declared, "But neither the wisest constitution nor the wisest laws will secure the liberty and happiness of a people whose manners are universally corrupt.” If our nation is destroyed it will be because we have become corrupt. To maintain liberty, laws against corruption must be enforced. If there is no consequence then there is no law. If there is no order and without order liberty, will not be secured.

Americans have enjoyed liberty that no other nation has known. We can complain of those in office, and of the loss of our liberty day by day, when in reality it is we that elect those in office and our behavior is what restrains our freedom. We are so blessed to be able to live where we are free to make our own choices and be accountable for our actions. Many in the world today die longing for the precious gift of freedom which we may take for granted. Those before us have sacrificed so much that we, their posterity may enjoy liberty’s blessings. Thomas Jefferson said, “How little do my countrymen know what precious blessings they are in possession of, and which no other people on earth enjoy!”

Our constitutional form of government can enforce laws that the Articles of Confederation could not. On September 17, 1787, the final day of the Constitutional Convention, Benjamin Franklin rose to say, “I think a general government necessary for us, and there is no form of Government but what may be a blessing to the people if well administered, and can only end in Despotism when the people shall become so corrupted as to need a despotic Government, being incapable of any other.” It takes a strong, but limited government and a virtuous people for a nation to prosper. The founders wrote the form of government for a free society, and if we will govern ourselves, we will surely secure the blessings of liberty not only for ourselves but for our posterity.
